Facilitator’s Training for the Butterfly Lodge Teachings is available for people who work with children and youth in a variety of settings. The Kapaapako Miikiwaap Lodge Teachings represents a culturally sensitive resource/curriculum focused on preventing the sexual exploitation of children and youth.

The impetus to develop a strategy for the education, prevention and intervention of school age children stems from this realization and is what underlies the foundation of the Lodge Teachings and the work that will come from its creation. The work that is required to provide children and youth with a good sense of their individual gifts means that we must:

- Reduce harm to children and youth from the impact of sexual exploitation,
- Create possibilities for healing the wounds of sexual exploitation,
- Restore balance to the self, family and community,
- Rebuild healthier communities to once again provide children and youth with the “Good Life”.

In order to be prepared for this training it is important to familiarize yourself with the reading materials that will be sent out to you. Participants will NEED to read the Vision document, Note: It is critical to have read the Vision document by the time you arrive at training as the Vision document is based on the foundations of traditional knowledge that speak to why sexual exploitation was nonexistent, why it became an issue in contemporary society, and why prevention is so important.

The following experiences and knowledge are beneficial to have prior to taking this training
